

Stepping out for a worthy cause

IN STEP: Adjudicators Eugene Smith ADCRG, Jean Hunter ADCRG and Hugh McKenna ADCRG join the winners of the Senior Championships at the St Agnes' Feis

TAKING THE RIGHT STEPS: The annual St Agnes' Lourdes Fund Feis was held earlier this month in St Agnes' Parish Hall, Andersonstown. The feis is run under the auspices of An Comhdháil as a fundraising event for the parish which, each year, assists those travelling to Lourdes at Easter. This year's feis was a huge success, attracting dancers from all across the country, as well as representatives from England, Scotland and New Zealand. Belfast teens make their mark on global summit

Four teenage members from the Belfast Computer Club House travelled to Boston recently to take part in the Intel Computer Club House Teen Summit.

The local young people were joining by over 300 young people from over 20 Club Houses around the world, including groups from Denmark, Russia, Jordan and New Zealand.

The week-long event was organised by the Intel Computer Club House Network which has established Club Houses in over 100 under-served communities across the globe, in collaboration with the Museum of Science, North Eastern University and the world-renowned Massachusetts Institute of Technology in Boston.

James Woods, Geordie Devine, Jeanette Duff and Gareth Shields were chosen by Club House co-ordinators for their contributions to the Club House community and their technical and creative ability, to share a once in a lifetime opportunity to represent the city of Belfast to their Club House peers on a global stage.

The 'Teen Summit takes place in Boston USA every two years.

Said Club House co-ordinator Louise Feeney: "Our young members truly appreciated every day they spent in Boston and made a real impact on Network staff.

"Knowing that this experience has allowed them all to grow in confidence both individually and as a cross community group is truly inspiring."
